POLITICAL.

MEETING OF SEVERAL STATE CONVEN TIONS YESTERDAY.

The New Jersey Democrats Have a Lively Time-The Democracy of Connecticut Have a Quiet Convention-Nominations and Platforms.

[Fy telegraph to the Dispatch.] TRENTON, N. J., September 28 .-The delegates to the Democratic State Convention, including those who passed the night on the street, were astir early this morning, and the caucussing of twenty-one counties began about o'clock. Exciting meetings were the rule, and the same uncertainty as puzzled politicians last night still prevailed. The only thing positively known was that the fight was still Green against the field and the field against Green. The Convention was called for noon, and the Taylor Opera-House-the scene of the proceedings-began to fill up with delegates at that hour.

There are 638 entitled to seats, and a majority of this number is necessary to a choice for the gubernatorial nomi-

At half-past 12 o'clock Rufus Blodgett, chairman of the State Executive Committee, after calling the Convention to order, nominated Judge John W. Wescott, of Camden, for temporary chairman.

Judge Wescott was welcomed with cheers. He took the chair and made a speech counselling moderation speech and thought in the struggle for the gubernatorial nomination.

An organization was then completed by the election of secretaries and other officers. The counties were called for nominations for Committees on Credentials, Resolutions, &c.

Hon. George Duryea, of Newark, offered a resolution culogistic of the late Samuel J. Tilden, "who will assume an assured place in history as a statesman whose life and public career will ever be preserved as a brilliant example of love for his fellow-men, of devotion to his country and to the principles of liberty, patriotism, and honor.

It was unanimously adopted without reference.

A recess was then taken till 2 o'clock. It was nearly 2:30 P. M. when the Convention reassembled. James T. Connelly, chairman of the Committee on Permanent Organization, reported for permanent chairman Allan L. Mc-Dermott, together with a list of vicepresidents and secretaries.

The report was promptly adopted, and Chairman McDermott was then presented. He made a rattling speech, n which he declared that the great issues of the campaign are questions of equal taxation and the rights of labor to protective legislation. He said that fer twenty years past every voter in New Jersey has been a slave of rail-At this time United-States-Senator

Then came the report of the Committee on Resolutions, read by Hon. Thomas F. Noonan, of Jersey City. It is as follows: The Democrats of New Jersey in Convention assembled declare:

That we reaffirm the doctrines declared in the National platform of the party adopted at Chicago in 1884. That we endorse the Administration of President Clevelan late the country upon the success which has attended the efforts of the Democratic party to reduce the cost of the Government and burdens of taxation.

We express our grief for the death of the many great Americans who have been called from life and the country since our last Cunvention; and that we pay the tribute of our sorrow to the memories of U. S. Grant, George B. McClellan, Horatio Seymour, Thomas A. Hendricks, and Samuel J. Tilden; that in the death of Samuel J. Tilden the people have lost a sincere friend and devoted statesman; that the national grief which accompanied his body to the grave, contrasted with the general contempt entertained for his competitor in the presidential election of 1876, attests the love of the American people for the principles of right and justice and their abhorrence of fraud.

A high tribute was paid to Governor Abbott, and the platform continues: We demand that the laws governing immigration shall be so amended and enforced as to absolutely prevent the importation of convict and pauper labor. We welcome manhood in the search of liberty and equality. We are, in the words of the inaugural address of Governor Abbott, opposed to "busy prisons" and empty work-shops, and pledge the Democratic party to legislaon which will make this sentiment effective. We applaud the efforts of the Democratic House of Representatives to restore to the public domain millions of acres delivered by Republican Congresses to satisfy the greed of corporations and the grasp of foreign specula-tors. The public lands of the United States should breed homesteads not railroad stock. Whenever the condi-tions upon which those lands were granted have been violated the forfeiture must be enforced. Over acres which are to be the homes of millions the Democratic party has alone proven itself as capable of enacting and maintaining the legend, "These lands are held by the people."

The interest-bearing debt of the United States should be reduced whenever the surplus in the Treasury can be used for that purpose. Idle dollars discourage honest hands. Every child is entitled to a fair education at the expense of the Commonwealth. laws for the regulation of the employment of children should be so framed and enforced that the brains and body of the youth of to-day should be fitted for a healthy comprehension and performance of the duties of the citizen to-morrow.

To those who, in any quarter of the globe, are endeavoring to break the chains of tyranny and oppression we tender our heers and hope.

The counties were then called for nominations for Governor.

Assemblyman Beckwith named Judge Robert S. Green, of Union, on behalf of Atlantic county, amid great applause.

Charles E. Hendrickson, of Burlington; Rufus Blodgett, of Monmouth; Judge John W. Westcott, of Camden; Judge John Hopper, of Passaic; Judge John McGregor, of Newark; David C. Dodd, of Essex county; Andrew Albright, of Essex, and Augustus W. Cutler, of Morris, were also named. A long speech was made in connection with every nomination.

Finally, at 4 o'clock, the first ballot

When Hudson county was began. reached a scene of awful confusion and excitement occurred over the charge that the chairman of the delegation had not reported correctly.

Finally Robert S. Green, by a change of votes, was nominated on the first ballot. The result after the change was as follows: Green, 365; Wescott, 22; Cutler, 75; Hendrickson, 18; Al bright, 39; Blodgett, 145; Dodd, 17 The nomination of Green was then made unanimous, and, while the band played and the crowd shouted, the Convention broke up. There was no speech-making and presentation of can-didates. The assemblage was too hot and too excited for anything of the kind. It was the most brief and stormy Convention ever known in New Jersey.

THE CONNECTICUT DEMOCRACY. NEW HAVEN, CONN., September 28 .- The Democratic State Convention met at 11 o'clock. Hon, A. E. Barr was made temperary chairman, and he made a brief address. Committees on Credentials, Permanent Organization, and Resolutions were appointed.

The temporary organization was made permanent. The Convention then proceeded to present the names of nominees for Governor. The whole number of votes cast was 390; necessary for a choice, 196. Edward S. Cleveland received 340, James Gallagher 24, George G. Sumner 11, Miles T. Granger 10. scattering 5. The ballot was made formal by a rising vote. Edward E. Bradley was nominated or Lieutenant-Governor, Bryan F. Mabon for Secretary of State, W. W. Staddy for Treasurer, and Malcolm R. Greswood for Comptroller.

The following platform was unaniously adopted :

The Democratic party, holding that all political power is inherent in the people, acknowledge equality in political rights, with the largest political and eligious liberty compatible with good order, and pledges its fidelity to the Constitution and to the Union. It de-1. That in the election of 1884 the people demanded a change of Administration and cleaner methods in the various departments of the Government; and as President Cleveland is bringing the Executive Department back to constitutional principles of economy and honest service, we will render to him our united support in carrying out his policy of conducting a pure Administration in the offices of public trust in the economy which he requires and the principles which he has enunciated as the safeguards of the public welfare.

2. We approve of the platform adopted by the Democratic National Convenin 1884, including those sections which require a just revision of the revenue laws, in the adjustment of which the industrial interests of the country shall be guarded and labor protected against the cheaper prices paid for labor in Europe. We favor a prohibition of the importation of pauper labor from foreign countries.

3. We endorse the resolution of the Connecticut Legislature requesting Cougress to make proper provision for defending the coasts and harbors of the United States against the formidable armaments of foreign nations, and we cordially approve of the steps recently taken to improve and strengthen our

4. In legislative enactments the Democratic party pays due regard to the fullest liberty of the individual consistent with law and order. We recognize the fact that no law to prevent abuse in the use of alcoholic liquors can be enforced against public sentiment, and we adhere to the public views heretofore expressed by the Democrtic party—that a well-regulated license-law, thoroughly executed, will best promote the cause of temperance and good order in society—but a license-law under the control of an exclusive partisan board of county commissioners, who act for their party rather than the welfare of society, will fail of its primary object.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.] ATLANTA, September 28 .- The chief interest in the Democratic primary, which was held here to-day, centered in the fact that an attempt was made to mix it up with the probibition question. CHRISTIANSBURG, VA., September 28 .- To-day being County Court, quite a crowd gathered in our town, and Captain Samuel Griffin, our nominee for Congress, addressed the Democracy. He is a forcible speaker, his appearance on the rostrum being specially fine. Cigar Manufacturers' Convention.

[By telegraph to the Dispatch.] PHILADELPHIA, September 28 .-President Helman, of the National Cigar-Manufacturers' Association, called the Convention to order to-day in the Continental Hotel. The first thing that occupied the attention of the members was the consideration of the report of the Committee on Resolutions. There was a long debate on the first resolution, which was presented and read as follows :

Resolved, That all members be requested to register all their existing and all future trade-marks in the Label Bureau of the Legal Protective Association of New York, and said bureau to be open for inspection to any manufac-An amendment to insert trade papers at the place of registration was lost after a long debate, and the original resolution was adopted. The committee reported adversely on the second resolution, which was in effect that Congress should abolish the tax on cigars. The report of the Committee on this resolution provoked a spirited discussion, and the report was finally postponed indefinitely.

Mr. Frye offered a resolution author zing the Association to get up a labe the use of such manufacturers as may desire it. The chairman, Mr. Herman, at this time left the chair, calling in his place David Hirsch, of After some debate the re clution was lost.

A resolution asking Congress to re vise the tax laws was also lost, and one abolishing the drummers' tax was adopted. A resolution asking for the passage of a national bankrupt law preferable to that known as the Lowell bill was adopted. One providing for the establishment of an industrial school for instruction in eigar-making was adopted. An amendment favoring the encouragement of the apprenticeship system was made by Mr. Oppenheim and carried, the original resolution being lost.

ur. Manning and the Probability of Resuming His Post. [By telegraph to the Dispatch.]

WASHINGTON, September 28 .- Although no one in Washington, unless it be the President, is authorized to speak for Mr. Manning on the subject, it is generally understood that he will soon resume his duties at the head of the Treasury Department. Mr. Cleveland, it is said, has received such assurance from him. When the President asked the Secretary of the Treasury to take a leave of absence and a long rest before determining whether or not he would continue in office, the 1st of October was by agreement between them fixed as the day when the question should be taken up. It was not said that Mr. Manning must be prepared to assume the duties of office on the 1st of October. He will not take his place at the head of the Department on that day, but it is thought by those who ought to know that he will be found at his desk as soon as reasonably cool weather sets in. His physicians have advised him not to return to Washington while there is any possibility of a hot spell, and he will follow their advice. When he does return to his office, it is certain that Mr. Manning will not undertake to work as hard as in the past. He will be relieved by his assistants as far as possible of merely routine work, and he will find that the demands upon his strength will not be as great as formerly.

Cabinet Meeting.

F. Snellings, Esq., and Dr. Christopher Tompkins, of Rich-mond, who held an inquest over Walker and made a post-mortem examination of his body. Their evidence did not differ materially from what has already been published in the Dispatch. At a few minutes after 4 P. M. the court adjourned over until 10 A. M. to-day, and the jury was placed in the custody of the special deputy sergeants. HISTORY OF THE CASE.

On the night of the 13th of July a man and woman were seen disputing at the corner of Twelfth and Porter streets. After some little time a second man came up to them. The quarrel continued between the woman and the taller man, and one of the parties was heard to speak to the woman as Berta." Finally one of the men had a struggle with the woman close to the fence; the other man stepped towards them, and immediately three shots were The woman and the short man ran off, and in a few seconds the tall man, who proved to be Washington Walker, a Richmond negro, was found on the other side of Porter street, lying egainst Dr. Ingram's fence.

The Condemued Asprehists [By telegraph to the Disputch.] CHICAGO, September 28 .- Allidavits to support the motion for a new trial for the seven condemned Anarchists have been filed by their attorneys. The usual plea is entered, that the verdict is not supported by evidence, and it is also urged that the counsel for the State employed a form of argument which was calculated to prejudice the jury. The chief point urged, however, is the story telegraphed from Indianapolis shortly after the conclusion the trial to the effect that a man entered a drinking-saloon in that city one or two days before the Haymarket massacre and exhibited a satchel, intimating that slaughter would occur in Chicago in a few days. The theory of the defence is that this mysterious stranger had a quantity of dynamite
